

G20 Agriculture and Water Ministers Meet to Address Food Security and Sustainable Water Management

Riyadh, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, September 11, 2020

G20 Agriculture and Water Ministers will hold a ministerial meeting under the Saudi G20 Presidency on September 12, 2020 to strengthen policy cooperation towards food security, and to address the need for sustainable and integrated water resource management. The Ministers will also tackle global challenges such as disruption of supply chains, water access and global hunger under the Saudi G20 Presidency's aim to safeguard the planet.

The Ministers will address global food waste and water management challenges and encourage food and water loss reduction initiatives to ensure global food security and nutrition.
